

I have Cornelia de Lange Syndrome

And so do 20,000 other children in the U.S., yet most haven't been diagnosed.

Help find these children.

Children with Cornelia de Lange Syndrome (CdLS) look a lot like me: eyebrows that meet, long eyelashes, upturned nose, and thin, downturned lips. But a cute face isn't all we share. Children with CdLS develop more slowly than their peers. Some have limb differences. Many have serious digestive and heart problems that can affect quality and length of life if untreated.

If you know a child who looks like me, call the CdLS Foundation at 800-753-CdLS or visit www.CdLSusa.org.
